The Royal Military College

THERE are few national institutions of more value and interest to the country than the Royal Military College at Kingston. At the same time its object and the work it is accomplishing are not sufficiently understood by the general public.

The College is a Government institution designed primarily for the purpose of giving the highest technical instructions in all branches of military science to cadets and officers of Canadian Militia. In fact it is intended to take the place in Canada of the English Woolwich and Sandhurst and the American West Point.

The Commandant and military instructors are all officers on the active list of the Imperial army, lent for the purpose, and in addition there is a complete staff of professors for the civil subjects which form such a large proportion of the College course.

Whilst the College is organized on a strictly military basis the cadets receive in addition to their military studies a thoroughly practical, scientific and sound training in all subjects that are essential to a high and general modern education.

The course in mathematics is very complete and a thorough grounding is given in the subjects of Civil Engineering, Civil and Hydrographic Surveying, Physics, Chemistry, French and English.

The object of the College course is thus to give the cadets a training which shall thoroughly equip them for either a military or a civil career.

The strict discipline maintained at the College is one of the most valuable features of the system. As a result of it young men acquire habits of obedience and self-control and consequently of self-reliance and command, as well as experience in controlling and handling their fellows. In addition the constant practice of gymnastics, drills and outdoor exercises of all kinds, ensures good health and good physical condition.

An experienced medical officer is in attendance at the College daily.

Seven commissions in the Imperial regular army are annually awarded as prizes to the cadets.

The length of course is three years, in three terms of 9½ months' residence each.

The total cost of the three years' course, including board, uniforms, instructional material, and all extras, is from $750 to $800.

The annual competitive examination for admission to the College will take place at the head-quarters of the several military districts in which candidates reside, in May of each year.

For full particulars of this examination or for any other information, application should be made as soon as possible, to the Adjutant General of Militia, Ottawa, Ont.

Editorial.

Another theatre night has come and gone, and we are now brought face to face with the less amusing diversion of getting up a good deal of neglected work, and with no excuse for a night off until election day.

During the last week the Alma Mater Society's action in buying all the seats at His Majesty's and retailing them at advanced prices, has met with a good deal of harsh criticism, the general tone of which is well shown in a letter received by the editor and published on another page of this issue. There is no doubt that the Alma Mater Society has laid itself open to censure by their rather arbitrary action, and that the students have just cause to resent it to a certain extent. At the same time the main idea of the Society—that of taking advantage of theatre night to make some money to be devoted to general athletics—is not a bad one, and with a little correction it should be as fair as it is efficient.

But for the body which is formed to look after and protect student interests, to wring money out of the students on an occasion where they have no choice but to submit to the extortion, is not fair, and we consider that the Alma Mater Society has rather abused its privileges in so doing.

It is true that the large mass of the student body were not affected by this advance in prices, but the Fourth Year men and the members of the track and football teams were, and it simply meant that those who could not afford the extra charge for their seats, were forced to either sit in the gods or stay away altogether. If the Alma Mater Society had only sold the down-stairs and first balcony seats to students at the usual prices, and raised the prices for outsiders, they would have still had a considerable surplus after defraying all the expenses of decorations, fireworks, etc., and they would have received greater credit for their wise speculation.

That the Alma Mater Society believed itself to be acting for the best in this matter goes without saying, but from what we have heard the motion was carried with little or no discussion, and this point alone shows that the meeting acted a little hastily and without the consideration which such an important step demanded.

An evidence of the urgent need of one highest court of appeal in student affairs at McGill, is splendidly afforded by the pass to which matters relative to Inter-Year football have lately come. For the past three years, the Alma Mater Society has sanctioned, if not absolutely authorized, Inter-Year organization as against Inter-Faculty, and this system we take it, the society desired to have carried through all social and athletic activities of the student body. No intimation has yet come to the undergraduates that this policy has been in one whit amended. But, to the utter astonishment of the many champions of the Inter-Year cause, an unsigned call for organization for football on the old faculty lines was posted on the tree nearest the main entrance to the college grounds some ten days ago. Now we are assured that this notice did not come from an irresponsible person. It bore the authority (and why not some signature?) of the Grounds and Athletic Committee, acting on the recommendation of the football club. The "Grounds and Athletic Committee" is the Supreme Court of all athletics around the University, and when we know that this body owes no allegiance to the Alma Mater Society, we are surely the victim of a serious dilemma. Whom are we to obey?

The policy of the Alma Mater Society commends itself as the natural and ultimately more successful and desirable one, if allowed to take root. Thus far it has been a weak plant owing to buffetings from many ill winds, but that favorable circumstances would make it to flourish and fructify, is our unshaken confidence. Moreover, if the name "Alma Mater" has any significance among college men, it should be as the students' Privy Council, and it be made such at McGill is our earnest appeal. At any rate the occasion demands a definition of its powers and a speedy removal of this system of dual authority.

Following in part the example of last year's board, we are offering a reporter's prize of ten dollars this session to the reporter who gets the biggest percentage of subscriptions from the members of his class. This will give the reporters of the smaller classes as good a chance to compete for the prize as those of the larger ones, and will make the competition fairer and more interesting. We wish to again urge upon our reporters the necessity of having their copy in by Friday evening at latest.

Montreal, October 12th, 1904.

Editor McGill OUTLOOK.

Dear Sir:—

If your space will permit, I should like to venture a few observations on the manner in which theatre night is being conducted this year.

The Alma Mater Society is meant to be a thoroughly representative student association, and it has a direct mandate from the undergraduates. Yet in the management of theatre night it is running directly counter to the wishes of a large number of students, and apparently acting without the slightest regard to its constitutional powers.

A few years ago, the athletic fee, payable by every student, was $2.00. Then an extra dollar was added, and although some grumbling was heard, this was, on the whole, willingly submitted to, as it was considered that the addition would place athletics at the University on a firm footing.

Now we are called on the witness the spectacle of the student body being virtually "held up," in order to raise further funds, which, it may be said, are almost entirely for the benefit of the Football Club.

The idea used to exist that theatre night was an affair got up and managed by the students for their own pleasure, but this apparently is quite a mistaken one. Theatre night, instead, is an affair got up by the Grounds Committee and the Football Club to raise money for athletics, and the students needn't worry their heads about it. If they don't like to pay whatever price the committee demand they can simply stay at home.

The average person would say, "if the Football Club are in want of money, why don't they take some steps to raise it themselves?" If they find themselves short at the end of the season, they could have a concert or even a general subscription. But the simplest way is to raise the prices for their own games (if any prices are to be raised). Fifteen cents is a ridiculous price for admission to a football match. There is probably not a man who would not willingly pay at least twenty-five. And in this matter there is another consideration which suggests itself. Even at the present low price of tickets, a number of those sold are never collected. From my own experience, though I have bought tickets every year, I only once remember them having been taken up. Under this state of affairs it is not surprising that students do not buy as many tickets as they should.

Since the Football Club are always crying poverty, let them put up the admission price and insist on every student having a ticket.

But I am already encroaching too largely on your space. To conclude; if the Football Club want money, let them raise it through their own efforts, and not attempt to arbitrarily coerce the whole student body.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your courtesy, I am, Yours, etc.,

STUDENT.

THEATRE NIGHT.

Theatre night with its mirth and rejoicing, has come and gone in a blaze of glory, and nought remains but the imperishable memory. The Freshman has at last satisfied his youthful yearning to witness so great an occasion, and the memory of the first theatre night is in many ways a most pleasant one. To the Sophomore it brings almost equal delight, for past experience tells him how best he may make the most of so short a period of jollification, Staid seniors, and dignified juniors will look back to it with a keener pleasure as the years roll on.

In many ways the evening was the most successful and enjoyable that has ever been participated in by the students of Old McGill. To one not connected in any way with university life, the whole proceeding seems a senseless jumble of noise and one long rude interruption to the play, but we know better. Embodied in the wild yells and choruses from the gods is the class spirit and university spirit that has brought McGill where she is to-day—at the forefront of the universities of the world. So let not the hasty ones judge us too much by the single glimpse of Monday evening. We go out for gore, and gore we must have!

The feature of the whole affair is of course the procession, and this year it was a splendid one. The only unfortunate part is, that Freshmen and Sophomores alike wore megaphone hats. Although this style of headwear is of the greatest use for rooting, yet a novelty in this line would be an improvement. The costumes were perhaps the most elaborate for many years.

Almost sharp on the stroke of seven the festive throng to the music of the band commenced their march from the college gates down Sherbrooke to Union, and then via St. Catherine to His Majesty's. Myriads of Roman candles, rockets and flare lights made the streets grow bright as day. Flash! zip! roar! and myriads of sparks shower and dazzle the bystanders.

First came the small band of juniors with the old fighting yell of naughty-six. Then the first of the costumed revellers, the noble Sophs of '07, clad in a "red front upon a white background" arrangement, and through the megaphones came the roar of the year yell. Pressing close on their heels were the Freshies as fantastically gowned and twice as noisy.—"Nigger minstrel" style clothes with the usual megaphone hat was their costume, and proved an exceedingly pleasing novelty in the way of dress.

So with noise and fire and smoke, the gaily clad enthusiasts reached His Majesty's. Here there was none of the usual mad fighting to get in. Outsiders were distinctly outsiders that evening, and the entire family circle and gods was practically all McGill. To the Alma Mater comes the grateful thanks of the students!

The theatre itself was unusually attractive, around the galleries was strung the red and white, and on every point of vantage hung a shield or coat of arms. Pennants gleamed everywhere, and all combined to produce an exceedingly pretty effect.

The floor was completely filled with "fair women and brave men" and even here the red and white was everywhere present in the flowers and ribbons. The front rows of the dress circle were occupied by the young ladies of the Royal Victoria College and the nurses in training at the city hospitals. The whole balcony was filled to overflowing, and every box was occupied. Very seldom has a theatre night been so well attended and appeared so gay. The purchasing of the house by the Alma Mater was evident by the distinctly university audience, and may this be a precedent ever to be followed.

Of the play itself, we won't say anything. Anything will pass theatre night, and the local hits from the comedian covered a multitude of sins. During the first act things were exceedingly hot, but after the first few minutes everyone settled down, and except for the usual clever remarks from the gods "all went merry as a marriage bell."

Between the first and second acts the prizes for the athletic games were presented. "Wick" received an enthusiastic reception, but managed to make people hear what he had to say. Donahue was of course the object of the Freshies' attention, but considering that they outnumbered every other Year, the yelling from Juniors and Sophs. was at all times a credit and distinctly audible.

During the second act those who were still on the water waggon, had rather a dull time. The presentations give everyone a chance to do a little yelling on their own account. The hit on "Henry Bovey" fairly brought down the house, and what didn't float out from the gods wasn't worth thinking over. But all things must end, and at last the curtain fell.

The majority went towards the college. In Molson Hall refreshments to satisfy the taste of the most exacting, were served to the hungry band from the gods, and a more dainty display was prepared for the fair ones in the Engineering building. But soon the strains of the orchestra called everyone to the drawing rooms, where the drawing tables had been cleared out and the polished floor was in splendid condition.

The programme called for eleven numbers, together with a preliminary extra and one final. As time flew by, the number of those dancing was in a great measure decreased, and the last few numbers were exceedingly enjoyable. It is impossible to dwell longer upon the scenes of beauty and gladness. All things must come to an end, and in the "wee small hours," the strains of God Save the King" played the finale of the theatre night of 1904.

HEARD FROM THE GODS.

When that sweet little rabbit blew upon the stage, there came a husky voice saying, "Do you shee a rabbit too ol'man?"

We all agree with Max that it was adding insult to injury, but what a hit it was!

A few more evenings like that and Donahue would be a first-class candidate for a lightning change artist.

The refreshments were an exceedingly happy idea, but of course there was the inevitable "catch-as-catch-can," and as usual the row of hungry ones who persist in eating by the table and keeping others out.

Well! it has come and gone. Away all thoughts of pleasure, welcome books and drudgery. Here's looking at you until Christmas!

ATHLETICS.

MCGILL WINS AGAIN!

Queen's Defeated by 12 to 6. A Magnificent Exhibition of Football.

McGill tightened her hold on the Inter-Collegiate championship Saturday, by defeating Queen's 12 to 6. It was a close game, marked by brilliant plays throughout, and was undoubtedly one of the best exhibitions of rugby ever seen on the McGill grounds. The teams were very evenly matched and in splendid condition, which accounts for the grand football played. A little superiority on the back division and wings was all that gave McGill the victory, otherwise it would have been hard to decide which was the better team.

It was ideal weather for football, clear and bright, with just enough cold in the air to set the blood tingling. Under these favorable conditions a record crowd turned out. Grand stand and bleachers were packed with spectators, a large percentage of whom were not students. In fact the rival attraction of the Ottawa-Westmount game did not seem to decrease the attendance of city people in the slightest. One interested spectator remarked after the game that if the Inter-Collegiate Union could always put up a game of the quality witnessed Saturday, the C. R. F. U. would soon cease to injure the McGill gate receipts.

Of course there was plenty of cause for enthusiasm, and the cheering was certainly better than usual. The yell leaders kept the mass of students at it, and save towards the close of the game, when the excitement was so intense that one forgot to cheer, a continuous rooting from hundreds of lusty throats encouraged the McGill team. The Queen's supporters, too, though but a handful, made themselves heard, and gave their unpronounceable Gaelic yell occasionally.

The play was, as has been said, of the brilliant and exciting kind that causes the spectator to go wild with enthusiasm. McGill's backs worked splendidly together, and with the exception of McPherson, put up a perfect game. That player showed some signs of nervousness and made several bad fumbles, one of which cost McGill a touch, but with a little more experience and coaching, he will play as strong a game as any on the team. "Alfie" at full-back, was a whole team in himself. He kicked splendidly and made his presence known all over the field. His coolness and control of the players was noticeable, and was a big factor in winning the game. Zimmerman too was very effective, and Richards played a steady hard game. McCallum at quarter played well, and his judgment in passing to Zimmerman gained for McGill their last touch. The scrimmage held their opponents well, though the Queen's trio was exceptionally good. Of the wings, all played well, Sharp, Stephens and Malcolm being the pick. The latter was certainly the most brilliant and effective player on the field, and it is doubtful if his equal is to be found in the Inter-Collegiate Union. He made McGill's first touch down by a brilliant run, and his tackling was the best ever seen on the McGill campus.

It was about ten minutes after three when the referee called the teams on the field, the line up being as follows:—

McGill.		Queen's.
Hamilton,	full-back,	McDonald.
(Capt.)
Zimmerman,	Halves,	Walsh.
Richards,	"	Williams.

The officials were:—

Gordon Fleck—Toronto, Referee.
George Biggs—Toronto, Umpire.
Timers, Queen's, McGinnis; McGill, McKenna.

Goal Judges—Dodds and Reford.
McGill spares—Cowan, Young, Barclay.

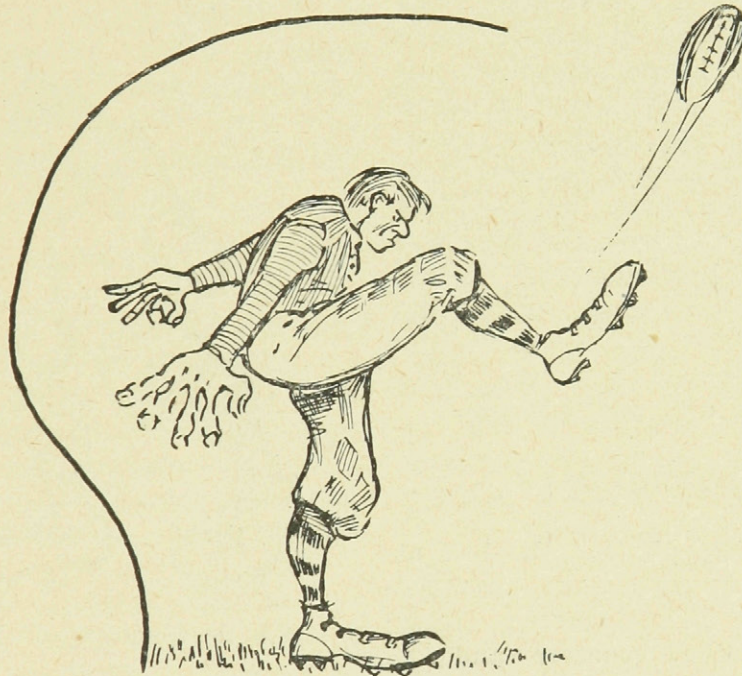

THE KICK OFF.

McGill kicked off towards the north goal. A series of quick passes transferred play into Queen's territory, and there was a scrimmage near the Queen's line. Richardson kicked the ball into touch near the 25 yard line. On the throw in Malcolm secured, and by a brilliant run through the entire Queen's back division, went over for a touch. Richards kicked for the goal, but failed to convert.

Score, McGill 5, Queen's 0.

Queen's seemed dazed by the sudden score and McGill nearly scored danger. Queen's again forced the ball down to the McGill line, but McPherson punted into touch near centre field. Heavy scrummaging marked the play for some time, and a number of free kicks were awarded on offside plays. McGill suffered more in this respect, and Queen's gained a good deal of ground in this way. Play gradually became more open and some pretty runs by the McGill halves forced the ball to the Queen's 10 yard line. Here it was lost on the third down, Malcolm made a pretty run, but was tackled and the ball lost. The ball again, but the visitors gradually steadied down, and by keeping the ball in scrimmage, forced it up to centre field. An exchange of punts gained ground for McGill, but a series of heavy scrummages and several free kicks for Queen's forced the play into McGill territory again. Richardson nearly made a touch, but was tackled by Hamilton almost on the line, and the eagerness of the Queen's wings gave McGill a free kick, which placed the ball out of again went into scrimmage and Carson bucked the line for good gains. A beautiful run by Richardson took the ball well into McGill territory, and here Queen's managed to hold it. In a scrimmage McPhee was hurt in the side and had to retire, Young taking his place.

Queen's continued to force the play, and kept our halves busy keeping the ball out of danger. A fumble by McPherson nearly resulted disastrously, but he redeemed himself by punting the ball into touch well down the field. Queen's was given a free kick and Richardson punted well over the line, McPherson fumbled badly, and Richardson following up hard fell on the ball, making the score

Queen's, 5, McGill 5.

Williams succeeded in converting, and another point was added.

Queen's 6, McGill 5.

Hamilton kicked off to Zimmerman, who punted over Queen's line, and the entire McGill line followed up so hard that Walsh was forced to rouge, and the score was evened up.

Queen's played desperately and kept the ball well in McGill territory, but our halves steadily out-punted them and saved a score. Malcolm, too, was playing a splendid game and stopped several dangerous looking runs by his fierce tackling. He was hurt and play was delayed for a few moments. It had scarcely been resumed, when the referee's whistle blew, much to the relief of the crowd, and the tired teams left the field for half time.

THE SECOND HALF.

Queen's kicked off, and the ball at once went into scrimmage near the McGill line. The Queen's team seemed determined to score, and for a few moments it took the best efforts of the McGill team to keep them from doing so. The playing was of a desperate character; with heavy scrimmaging and fierce tackling McGill gradually got the ball back into Queen's territory and seemed to have the upper hand. The wings were continually scrapping, and Kennedy finally went too far and struck Hammond in the face, referee Fleck promptly ruled him off for two minutes. The ball was now kicked over to the west side, and here another unpleasant incident occurred. McPherson was about to kick the ball when a Queen's substitute ran out on the field and threw himself on the ball. He was roughly handled by the McGill team, and a general mix up was only prevented by the interference of the officials. A moment later "Alfie" made a beautiful punt and placed the ball over the Queen's line. Stephens was right on top of Williams, who rouged.

Score, McGill 7, Queen's 6.

McGill played a fierce game and kept the ball well in Queen's territory. A series of scrimmages gained a good deal of ground for McGill. MacCallum finally got the ball and made a dodging run through the Queen's line, on being tackled he passed to Zimmerman, who went over the line for another touch, while the great crowd cheered itself hoarse. Richards again failed to convert and the score stood

McGill 12, Queen's 6.

From the kick off Queen's played desperately and made every effort to score, but the boys in red and white still had the better of the play, and as the minutes passed, it was seen that nothing but an accident could prevent us from winning.

Queen's tried every play—scrimmaging, punting and combination work, but could not even get the ball into dangerous territory, the play generally being near centre field. Some rather dirty work was done, two deliberate efforts being made to lay out Hamilton, once by tripping and again by running at him after he had kicked the ball.

But in spite of all their efforts McGill held them and kept possession of the ball most of the time. Malcolm made a couple of beautiful runs, but otherwise McGill seemed to be merely content to hold her own and not try for further scores. The referee's whistle finally blew for time, and the crowd swarmed out on the field with thunderous cheers, to carry off the boys who had won so hard a game for Old McGill.

NOTES.

A celebration in front of the Star office was brought to a close by the arrival of a dozen or so "cops." A good deal of cheering was done, but nothing serious resulted.

Lea was unable to play Saturday, but will be in the game with Queen's this week.

McGill was severely penalized in the matter of free kicks. Queen's was allowed nearly twice as many as McGill.

A SPLENDID SPORTS DAY.

Freshmen Won the Class Championship, and Donahue the Individual Championship.

With a large attendance and vice regal patronage, sports day was a great success. Though the day was cloudy and somewhat cool, there was little or no wind and the track was in fairly good condition. As a consequence the results of the various events were satisfactory, and one record was broken in the 120 yards hurdles, when Waugh clipped a fifth of a second off the record made by Savage last year.

Class spirit ran high, and the enthusiasm was greater than in any year since the introduction of the class system. The Freshmen were out in full force. The splendid showing made by their team gave them plenty of cause for enthusiasm, and they made their presence known by a choice assortment of yells and songs, several of which are entirely new. The Second Year, though they did not have as much opportunity for "rooting" as the Freshmen, kept up their end of the cheering, and a healthy rivalry evidently exists between the two years.

Great interest was taken in the sports, owing to the Intercollegiate contest next Friday in Toronto. McGill will evidently have a strong team on the whole, though the weight throwing was something weird. The discus was not so bad, but 33 ft. 2 3-4 inches in the shot put, and 84 ft. 2½ inches in the hammer, are records that don't seem to promise much in the way of points. In the sprints McGill, with Gurney lost to Toronto, should hold her own, and unless Shepherd is "rung in" for some fake course, we should get the majority of points out of the mile and half mile. Judging from last year the pole vault and high jump are safe, and while Toronto will probably take the broad jump, McGill should win the hurdles. The probable entry of Queen's men in the weights, would reduce Toronto's chances of piling up a big score there.

When the men were called out for the trial heat of the hundred, the spacious stands of the M. A. A. Grounds were packed. Four men faced the starter, and of these Brown, '06, and Hill, '07, qualified for the final. In the final there were six entries, Brown and McCuaig, '06; Hill and Carney, '07; and Donahue and Archibald, '08. Brown got away with the crack of the pistol and led till almost the finish, when McCuaig forged ahead and won out. Time 10 2-5. Donahue was third.

The high jump was a good contest. Brown, last year's winner, Beaubien, Christie, '06; Donahue, Powell and Waugh, '08, were entered. At 5 ft. 2 Donahue dropped out and Christie and Brown went down at 5 ft. 3. At 5 ft. 5, Beaubien was out. Powell conceded first place to Waugh, though both had a try for 5 ft. 6½, to break the college record. Neither succeeded.

Waugh took the hurdles easily, and broke the college record. He led from the start and was never headed off, though Donahue ran a plucky race. The time, 17 1-5 is equal to last year's Inter-Collegiate record.

The running broad jump was a good competition. Donahue, as expected, won with a jump of 20 ft. 4. Baird, also '08, was second, with 19 ft. 8¼, and Mackintosh, '05, was third.

The mile run was a splendid race. Nine men were entered, and by the time the runners had entered the last lap, they were strung out in a far-reaching line, the last man being some two hundred yards behind the leader. This last man, Hawkins, '08, retained his position until Scott and Gamble, the two leaders were almost on the stretch, when it seemed to occur to him that he might run a little faster if he tried. He began to spurt, and passing man after man as if they were standing still, overhauled the leaders. He caught Scott half way down the stretch, and had the race been 20 yards further would have beaten Gamble. As it was he took second, and ran the pluckiest race of the day. Gamble's time was 4.50 2-5.

The pole vault was the next event. While it was in progress, the vice regal party escorted by Principal Peterson, Dean Walton, Dean Moyse and President Stewart of the track club, entered the grounds. They were greeted by tremendous cheers and a very discordant rendering of the National anthem. Lord and Lady Minto also saw the 220 yards dash. Donahue took first place in the pole vault with 9 ft. 7. He tried for the record, but was not successful. Cumming, '05, was second; Christie, '06, third.

Erie McCuaig won the 220 by a narrow margin from Donahue. Carney was third. Time, 23 2-5, fairly good, and about equal to the Inter-Collegiate last year.

The discus brought out seven entries. Beaubien, '06, won out on his last throw, with Mac. Young, '06, second, and Davis, '07, third. Distance 99 ft. 9.

The half mile was a good race, though the time was slow. Grey, '07, led all the way. Powell, '08, came up in the stretch and took a good second. A. Dale Harris, '05, was third. The time was 2.09.

The shot put was a tame affair, Mac. Young won with a distance of 33 ft. 2 3-4 inches. Beaubien and Donahue tied for second place, and the latter won out by a couple of inches.

DeBeck, '06, took the quarter, with several yards between him and Donahue, the second man. McCuaig was third, with a large field strung out behind. DeBeck is a good man for this distance, and will prove an acquisition to the team. His time was 52 3-5.

Mackintosh, '05, won the hammer throw, Mac. Young was again second, and Worswick, also '06, third. The best throw was 84 ft. 2½ inches. A throw of something like 78 ft. took third. McGill is certainly very weak in the weights, if yesterday's showing can be taken as a criterion.

There were but two entries for the two mile run. Of these Kenyon, '07, and Scott, '05, made a pretty race, the former winning by a few feet. Ower, '05, was third. Kenyon's time 11 1 3-5 was fair.

The relay race closed the afternoon's sports. '06 and '07 had teams entered, Wood and Wilson clearly outran McMeekin and Ross, but De Beck outclassed Hill, and finished his quarter about thirty-five yards ahead. With this lead McCuaig had no trouble in defeating Stafford, '07, who was the last man for his team.

The Freshmen won the class championship with 45 points, the juniors were second with 39 points and the relay race. The Second Year was third with 18 points, and the Fourth Year fourth with 15. First place counted five points, second place, three, and third place one.

Donahue, '08, won the individual championship, with the grand total of 22 points, made by two firsts, in the pole vault and broad jump, and four seconds, in the hurdles, shot put, 220 and 440 yard dashes. This splendid aggregate proves Donahue to be the finest all round athlete McGill has ever had. He is the first Freshman to win the coveted honor and deserves the congratulations, not only of his class, but of the entire University. McCuaig was second, with 11 points. Waugh third, with 10, and Beaubien fourth with seven.

The officials did their work well and ran the various events off smoothly. They were as follows:—

Referee—Leslie Boyd.

Judges of Track Events—Principal Peterson, Dean Moyse, Dean Walton, Prof. Nobbs, L. Rubinstein, Dr. Springle.

Judges of Field Events—Dr. Elder, Dr. Patch, F. J. Tees.

Starter—W. M. Edward.

Timers—Prof. McLeod, H. Brown, S. A. Finley.

Scorers—L. Reford, McKenna.

Announcer—T. M. Papineau.

Clerks of Course—J. D. S. MacCallum, S. P. Sharpe, F. G. Wickware.

The following table shows fairly well what we may expect McGill to do on Friday at Toronto. If the records made in the various events at Toronto the other day are any criterion, our boys should have a good chance to bring back the championship. We leave you to judge for yourselves:—

	Toronto.	McGill.
High jump.	5 ft. 2 in.	5 ft. 5 in.

HARRIER RUN FROM LACHINE.

The McGill harriers will participate in a big union run with the clubs in the Montreal and District Harrier Association, Saturday, October 22nd. The students will assemble at Bonaventure Station at 3.30 p.m. They will take the G. T. R. train for Lachine, where preparation for the run will be completed. The course will be down through the fine apple orchards between the canal and the river. A big time is expected. No racing is to be indulged in; just a leisurely run. The run will finish up at the Grand Trunk Boating Club's club-house. The officers of the McGill Harrier Club desire a large turnout on the part of McGill. New men need not be afraid, as the pace will be slow with frequent rests.

N. B.—Kindly leave hard hats, etc., at home, they might be injured in transportation. The fare will be 12½ cents.

THE TRACK TEAM.

The following team has been chosen to represent McGill in the Inter-Collegiate meet. It is a very strong one, and Toronto will have to show some good men in order to keep possession of the trophy for another year. These are the men who will uphold the honour of Old McGill: Scott, Cumming, Mackintosh, '05; McCuaig, Brown, Beaubien, DeBeck, Young, '06; Carney, Grey, Gamble, '07; Waugh (Capt.), Hawkins, Powell, Donahue, '08. President Stewart and F. G. Wickware will probably accompany the team to Toronto, and "Thos. Graydon, trainer," as the pictures say, will also make the trip.

It is understood that Shepherd, the miler, will be on the Toronto team, on the strength of his two hours a week at the Conservatory of Music. It is just possible the executive may discover that Gurney or some other good man is taking a special course in gymnasium work, and ring him in too.

McGill will have her hands full defeating a team of this sort, but win or lose, our team is composed of bona fide undergraduates.

SPORTING BRIEFS,*McGill Vs. Bishop's.

McGill II team plays the team of Bishop College, Lennoxville, Saturday on the campus, in the Intermediate division of the C. I. R. F. U. The game should be a good one, as Bishop's is strong this year, and the McGill team has been showing good form. The game begins at 3 o'clock sharp. In the Intermediate series Trinity has already defeated McMaster and Toronto University II.

Queen's Vs. McGill.

The game Saturday increased greatly McGill's chances of winning the Inter-Collegiate championship this year. But we are not "out of the woods," so to speak, yet two hard games are before the boys, one with Toronto here on November 5th, and the other with Queen's Saturday. The wise ones define that the latter will be the harder game of the two, and that if McGill can defeat the Presbyterians on their own grounds, the championship is hers. It would be a great encouragement to the team to hear the McGill yell during the game, and it is to be hoped that many will go to Kingston Saturday to cheer the boys to victory. A special rate can be obtained, and a good time is assured to all who go.

Queen's will not Compete.

President Stewart has been in correspondence with the executive of the Queen's University Athletic Association with regard to entering a team in the Inter-Collegiate meet. Tuesday he received a definite answer that Queen's would not compete this year, as they cannot get a full team together and don't desire to send a few men only. However, a track is being built and a trainer will be procured, and next year Queen's will enter a full team to compete with Toronto and McGill.

Football Notes.

"Billy" Lea will probably be in shape again and will play in his old place on the wing Saturday. He is a strong, husky fellow, with a style of play resembling George Wright's. His presence on the wing line will add greatly to the strength of the team.

"Casey" Baldwin is back in the game, and is coaching the Toronto team hard. He has hopes of the championship again, and is doing his best to get the team into shape. Hare is also out at quarter and is playing a good game. There are rumors that Harold Beatty will be in his old place on the half back line before the season is over.

Queen's plays Toronto at Toronto a week from Saturday. It will be a hard game.

THE RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

The Rifle Association held its first annual meeting of the year in the Arts building, and some important business took place. This club certainly deserves more support and enthusiasm from the students. It not only forms a pleasant diversion for many who do not care to enter into the harder past-times of football and other sports, but offers an exceptional advantage of learning to shoot properly. The chief regret of all the officers and members, is the transportation.

With some assistance from the government the cost of going and coming might be much more reduced.

It was officially decided that the club matches should be held on Saturday, 22nd October.

Besides an unusually large prize list, there will be a handsome and valuable trophy, kindly donated by Dr. Birkett, to be competed for by year teams of 10 men. So let every year see to it that their best shots join the club and endeavor to win the cup.

The cup matches should prove a turning point towards establishing the club as a permanent and popular part of the McGill Athletic Association.

The officers for this year are:— President, Dr. H. M. Tory; 1st Vice-Pres., Dr. Ruttan; 2nd Vice-Pres., Dr. Gregor; Hon. Sec., Prof. Durley; Hon. Capt., Prof. Nobbs; Past Capt., H. C. Mercereau; Capt., H. A. Chisholm, Med. '05; Lieutenants, C. H. Payne, Arts '06; J. H. McDermot, Sci. '05; Sergeants, J. Forbees, Sci. '06; C. F. Moffatt, Med. '05; E. W. Brown, Sci. '05; J. McDonald, Med. '05; Secretary, Ed. McGougan, B.A.

About the College.

OPENING OF CONSERVATORIUM OF MUSIC.

His Excellency the Governor-General officiated on Friday, the 14th, at the opening of the new department of the University, the Conservatorium of Music. Miss Lichtenstein, Mr. Harriss, and the majority of the staff were present to welcome the vice-regal party and the large number of guests who responded to the invitation to witness the formal opening of the institution. Principal Peterson gave an address of exceptional interest, not only to musicians, but to all lovers of music, in which he drew attention to the important part that music, as the "universal language," has always played in expressing the deepest feelings of the soul, it being "a kind of inarticulate unfathomable speech which leads us to the edge of the infinite, and lets us for a few moments gaze into it."

Lord Minto then declared the building open, and after some remarks from Mr. Harriss, an opportunity was given of hearing some of the most promising students of the Conservatory, when the following programme was given by those who had won exhibitions at the recent examinations. The greatest outburst of enthusiasm was perhaps elicited by the performance of Miss Ellen Ballon.

A diminutive sprite of five or thereabout, who executed with great precision and coolness a selection from Schumann:—

Violin Solo	"Zigeunerweise"	Saraste
	Mons. Chamberland.
Song	"Lovely Spring"	Koenen
	Miss S. Goldstein.
Pianoforte Solo	"Kinderstück"	Schumann
	Miss Ellen Ballon.
Song	"Still wie die iNache"	Bohm
	Miss A. Mattnson.
Song	"Pour toi"	Walter
	Mlle. Bertha Savage.

The singing of the National anthem brought the first part of the proceedings to a close, the remainder of the time being spent in partaking of refreshments and in inspecting the beautiful building which was thrown open to the guests. The general attractiveness of the building, combined with the auspicious nature of the opening ceremony, augurs well for the future of the Conservatory, which will assuredly help swell the harmonious strain which sings the praise of Old McGill.

DELTA SIGMA.

The semi-annual business meeting of the Delta Sigma Society took place September 30th, in the Common Room of the R. V. C. After the annual report and the constitution had been read, the election of the Assistant Secretary-Treasurer took place, Miss Plaisted, of '08, being unanimously chosen. On the resignation of Miss Eaton of the office of Reporter to the OUTLOOK, Miss Michaels was elected to the position by acclamation. A very important question was then decided in an interesting impromptu debate. Resolved: "That the greatest efforts of mankind are due to the love of praise." After listening to a thorough discussion of the subject upon the part of the members, the judges decided in favor of the negative.

THE MEDICAL SOCIETY.

The opening meeting of the above society for the current session, was held in Lecture Theatre, No. III, of the Medical building, on Friday evening, October 7th. With no flourish of trumpet, but in a manner, modest and assuring, showing that the honour had been well bestowed, President Cumming assumed his duties before a very encouraging attendance. The Medical Society has been a potent factor in broadening and deepening the life and culture of its members; it has afforded a certain preparation for professional duties and the larger life of citizenship, that can be derived from no other source; and from the excellent beginning the new executive has made us look for a still more splendid record than has been.

After routine business the President delivered his inaugural address. The subject he discussed was "The Science of Medicine." In his preface he observed that it was his intention in preparing his paper to have it savor as little as possible of the class-room and text-book; and at its conclusion those who heard it could congratulate him on marked success in his effort. The theme was treated on its historic and scientific sides. From the former he gave a lucid and yet concise perspective of the evolution that the science has undergone from the days of the ancients when it was all experiment and about as much fantasy, through the middle ages of empiricism and alchemism to this twentieth century, when we are beginning to rise above the clouds of conjecture and superstition into the broad light of scientific fact. The abundant hope and promise of the science, its infinite possibilities that lead one to

"Yearn beyond the sky-line

Where the strange roads go down," were the predominant notes he struck. To the beginner of the course in medicine and to the veteran alike, the address was interesting and instructive.

A solo by Mr. A. L. Johnson, B.A., of '07, was received with the usual demonstrative enthusiasm that greets his songs, and an enchore was given before the applause would cease.

After this musical number, the opening address from a member of the Faculty was given by Prof. J. G. Adams. Needless to say, this popular instructor and friend of the students was ushered in amid the loudest acclaim. Like the President, he also had chosen a very comprehensive subject—"Life." In its treatment the meeting was made to feel the excellent scholarship and remarkable erudition of the professor and, long before he had concluded, many earnestly wished that they might secure the address through the columns of the "OUTLOOK" or some other publication. It would be useless to attempt even an outline here.

The remaining numbers of the programme were a cornet solo by Mr. C. O. McArthur, '06, and refreshments in which all took a hand. The last number was happily rendered in a more orderly manner than on a similar occasion last year, when the narrow limits of the booth made it necessary to convert the repast into a large-sized football scrimmage or a repetition of the college rush.

Y. W. C. A.

Miss MacDonald, who is about to leave for Japan in the interests of the Y. W. C. A., addressed the Wednesday meeting on October 12th. There was a good attendance, and all enjoyed Miss MacDonald's address. The Bible, she said, should be studied more. Character building was the most important thing in our life; then how could we neglect to study the Book from which we could build character. It was the manual for all our labor. But how were we to study the Bible? We were to do so intelligently. The point of view of the writers was to be considered. We were to study it with no preconceived ideas. It was to be treated in a scientific and systematic way. What we were, was to make an eternal impression on the world. Then take time for this great study, become specialists in character.

MR. GEORGE IRVING.

It was a great shock and surprise to the many friends of Mr. George Irving, to learn some few weeks ago, that the doctors has forbidden him to go out to India this autumn on account of his health, and that he had been ordered out West for the year.

Mr. Irving has said good-bye to his people at his home in Prince Edward Island, and had practically made all arrangements for his trip to India, when the discovery was made that he was developing an attack of tuberculosis. On the advice of his doctor he went immediately to Calgary, Alta., where he now is.

In a letter received from him this week, he said that he hoped to get out on a ranch within a few days.

Mr. Irving will have the sympathy of every McGill man in his great disappointment, and their best wishes that he may soon be completely restored to health.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

It is not too much to say that nothing, within recent years, has attracted McGill more to the notice of the outside public than the group of its graduates, who have this year left to take up work in the Foreign Mission field. Messrs. A. W. Lohead, B.A., B.D., and J. A. Mowatt, B.A., accompanied by their wives, are on their way to join the forces of the American Presbyterian Church of Canada in Honan, China.

Mr. Lohead is well-known to McGill students as the winner of the cross country run in 1902 and again in 1903, while Mr. Mowatt leaves behind him a splendid record on the football team.

Mrs. Lohead (nee Miss Jessie McLaughlin, Arts '02) was a prominent member in college circles, and Mrs. Mowatt (nee Miss Stevenson, Westmount) is widely known in Montreal.

On September 30th, Mr. C. S. Paterson, M.Sc., and Rev. H. J. and Mrs.

Keith sailed from Montreal on their way to India. Mr. Paterson goes out to take charge of the Boy's work at Calcutta, India, while Mr. Keith is under appointment as Bible Study Secretary for all India, with Calcutta as his headquarters. Both these men are going out under the direction of the International Committee of Young Men's Christian Associations of America.

Mrs. Keith (nee Miss Louise McDougall, Arts '99) was one of the active workers on her year.

Only a few days ago I. E. Mitchell, M.D., of the class of 1903, left Montreal for Calcutta, India, where he will take up his work in the London Mission Field.

The Rev. E. C. Woodley, who left McGill two years ago is also laboring in the same mission.

The best wishes of a host of friends accompany these graduates to their respective stations. Great interest will be taken in their labors by all McGill students and friends of the University.

HISTORICAL CLUB.

The opening meeting of the above society was held on Thursday evening, October 6th, in the temporary rooms of the Y. M. C. A.

Two very interesting and instructive papers on the question of the "Poor in great cities" were read; Mr. Davis, Arts '07, dealing with the problem as presented in Chicago, and Mr. MacFarlane, B.A., outlining the situation in London.

After a very interesting and entertaining discussion, the meeting adjourned for refreshments.

The society at their next meeting will be the guests of the Bible Study Class of the McGill Y. M. C. A., and the subject for the evening being India, a very interesting meeting is promised for all those who attend.

NOTES OF OTHER COLLEGES.

Last year basket ball was one of the most successful of Technology's activities. The members of the team were granted T's by the Advisory council, who recognized basket ball as an important branch of atheltics.

Yale, Harvard, Massachusetts Technology, and the Colorado School of Mines are arranging to lease a Colorado mine. It is purposed to have an expedition from all of these schools to the mine during the summers, doing all the work, from the sinking of the first shaft to the refining of the ore.

A large band of Sophomores of the Ohio State University recently showed their resentment of junior interference. Thirty-five of these upper classmen attempted to stir up and prepare the freshmen for the cane rush, but finding few first year men who cared to venture out, they repaired to the chapel where 200 sophomores were in secret session. A scuffle followed which resulted in the capturing of seven juniors who were treated to a fresh water bath in a nearby lake.

The University of Washington has the longest training squad in football since 1901.

In opposition to the "anti-hat lifting league" of the men at Minnesota, the girls have formed an "anti-smile association." The girls say smiling causes wrinkles and that in cold weather they cannot waste heat in warm smiles. According to the girls their aim is "brains without manners." The "anti-lifting" movement, however, goes peacefully and successfully on.

Even if the eyes of Radcliffe girls have to be kept straight ahead, it ought not to be particularly hard for Harvard men to move around into the line of focus.

The first college dance will be held next Saturday evening, October 15, at the main building, Adelbert College. The proceeds from this dance will be given to the "Reserve '05" Annual Board, in order to clear up the debt incurred from last year's publication.

Two great dormitories at Columbia University are now under way. They are each nine stories high and each contains 303 rooms. There will be four shower baths on each floor. An electric elevator will be in each building.

A large torch light rally was held at the California University last week. The students filed into procession, each carrying a torch and marched to the Greek theatre, where there was high revelry until a late hour.

The outlook for the Michigan football team is especially promising this year. Many of the best players are yet to report, and it is expected that Captain Yost will be able to pick out two teams, both of which will be able to tip the scales at over a ton.

Dr. R.—"Maggie will show you."

According to custom, we gave the Freshmen a tea on Monday. Most of them turned up and we decided that they were all right. At first they were a little bit afraid of our President, who received in State, in the Common Room. However, when they got well into the swing of the amateur theatricals, prepared for them, they lost their fear and likewise their dignity. We expect to see some of their members among the leading actresses of the day, at some future time.

A very exciting and somewhat disastrous incident occurred the other day, in Latin lecture, when one of the seats gave way under the great weight of E. J. There was a terrible crash followed by a thud, and Miss J. was scarcely discernible among the litter of books and broken seat scattered about the floor. The ruins may still be seen in the right wing of the R. V. C.

On Monday, October 10th, a very enjoyable tea was given by the Sophomores to the class of '08, in the Common Room, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion with McGill pennants and colors. The Freshies who had assembled in the hall were called in one by one and were graciously received by the President and other members of '07. As we were all very young and our little minds could not grasp more difficult games, we played "Nursery rhymes," each one acting one in turn. A silver pencil was the prize given to the best amateur actress. Afterwards we indulged in "musical chairs" for a little while and then very dainty refreshments were served, during which time we were able to talk to and get to know our kind hostesses. We had no hesitation whatever in swearing allegiance to the "noble Sophomores," although the room was rather gloomy and witches and ghosts glared around us. All enjoyed a very pleasant evening, and there seems to be no doubt that '07 and '08 will always be good friends.

While digging at Longueil last summer, McLeod, Naylor and Gibb discovered a worm-eaten book of Aeneid. They thought this was sure proof of the Roman occupation of this country. Unfortunately for their theory, it turned out to be a book dropped last year on the occasion of L'Emeute à Longueil.

B—y has been teaching the Scotchmen the science of bad punning.

Ki—ch is getting his extra $27 worth by taking every subject on the list.

S—tt has been spending papa's money.

What naughty words would you say if you had spent the whole afternoon reading a book, and then found out that you had read the wrong thing? Ask George.

WANTED—Pupils by a proficient singer. Terms moderate. Pretty young ladies preferred. Address, G. V. C. Studio, History Seminary.

How careless Pete is with the razor. Scrape up ten cents, Pete, and get the operation performed by a graduate in the tonsorial art.

The leading man in the Billionaire, will have to take a back seat on Monday evening, for C—s is going to sing.

Truly, there are thorns in the cushion of the Reportorial chair. Two gentlemen whom we mentioned in our last report, have suddenly discovered in themselves an amount of modesty of which we never suspected them. Mr. G. V. C. and our friend Diogenes, are after us with tomahawks because of the publicity we gave them last week. If the gentlemen in question find that their reputations suffer under the fierce glare of a class report, we make haste to offer our most humble apologies, sincerely hoping that their most extreme modesty will be thereby satisfied.

The above is one of the thorns we spoke of. The next has a more penetrating point. An accentuated outrage in a soft hat, who was one of a group of students examining the first number (it was free, you know) turned round in our direction and asked us what crazy idiot was responsible for the Arts '07 report! Wouldn't that jar you?

As far as the sports are concerned, boys, we must grin and bear it. If you don't know how to grin, ask Riley.

Some of the boys say there should be more chairs in the Psychology room. To judge by last Wednesday's exhibition, feather-beds would be more acceptable.

First Division Latin had a nice little tea-party last week. For further information apply to G—ld, but for Heaven's sake don't let a whisper of it reach R. V. C. '07.

Professor T—r told us the other day that the nerves in the human body are a telephone system. When anything happens to the tip of your finger it "calls up" the brain. When Ezra steps on a tack it is a "long-distance call."

As an example of constancy to the one girl A—ld takes the cake. He still gets letters in the same beautiful hand as last year.

LITERARY NOTES.

In his next edition of "Inventions of the Idiot," Mr. Bangs is going to add a chapter on Inter-Faculty football.

The Treasurer is thinking of presenting the Year with a copy of "Hard Times."

Would you please take off your hat?

At a meeting of this class held in No. 1 class room on October 12th, Mr. McGibbon was elected to act with the President of the class as representative to the Alma Mater Society of McGill University. Messrs. Penny and Archibald were also elected as marshals for theatre night. When the matter of English or Continental pronunciation of Latin comes up for discussion, it would be pertinent to consider the pronunciation of F—cy—cy's name. After we have gone through a series of coughs in an endeavor to pronounce it, and have congratulated ourselves in the belief that we have succeeded, it is rather embarrassing to be told that we are entirely wrong, and that the way to do it is by the judicious use of a few sneeze-like ejaculations and a little wriggle of the lower jaw. An efficacious remedy should be speedily forthcoming, for it is not pleasant to think of the Arts class providinug practical work for the Meds., to supplement their lectures on the maxillary bones.

Our friends, the Sophs., have evidently had some difficulty in regard to a new yell. Is it because Psychology and other "—ologies" in their curriculum present such a thickety appearance that they think it best not to shout until they are "out of the wood?"

SCIENCE, 1905.

We are glad to hear that the Third Year have not yet lost interest in the $5 that each one of them invested last spring in the 5 o'clock tea fund of the Faculty. It is rumored that before the next examinations are held, it will be finally settled whether the money so invested will rise again to its original par value, and whether those interested will be able to withdraw their amounts together with the 6 per cent. interest allowed on such investments. Go in boys, we're with you!

The common opinion that the Electricals of Sci. '05 have done little for the University, except establishing a reputation as pluggers, is refuted by their magnificent representation in Inter-Class day sports. Even "the Widow's mite" was not despised.

Astronomers are anxiously watching for some agitation in the heavenly bodies which may happen at any time. The reason for the expected phenomenon is, that Lockwood Burpee has spent two consecutive nights away from his lessons.

Judging from remarks let drop from the members of the class, some of the money lately invested in apparatus for our laboratories might be used to better advantage in securing instructors for that which we have.

Sentiments of hope, pleasure, regret, and dire apprehension, are those of the irreproachable year Science, '06. Hope for success, pleasure afforded by the reunion of old friends, regret for the loss of so many men who have decided to take a year off to recuperate their energies, and dire apprehension stimulated by the famed narcotic 'theory.'

The meeting of the year, which was unavoidably delayed, was finally called by our worthy President Lea, and the following officers were elected for the session.

President—Forbes.

Vice-President—Cole.

Secretary—Harding.

For Alma Mater Society—Lucy Wickware.

Hockey Captain—Brennan.

Annual Business—Durkee and Lea.

Rep. for Track Club—Brennan.

Rep. for Reading Room—Bell.

Reporter—Boyd.

It was the unanimous decision of the year, that Professor Chandler be asked to accept the position of Honorary President; and also that the Secretary should express by letter the feelings;—of sympathy and also of hope for his speedy recovery and return.

The family of our late friend Henry Skelton, has the heart-felt sympathy of the year. The thought that one who was so promising and high in the favour of all has passed away, fills us with deepest sorrow.

Naughty-eight has every reason to be proud of the showing made by her representatives in the sports last Friday, and Medicine especially is to be congratulated on having two such men as Waugh and Donahue. Poor old Sophomores! They simply weren't in it—the very last in the list too. "1-9-0-7, we're on top," seems to have a false ring about it nowadays.

M—lls wasn't looking at all well on Monday night. It is quite evident, John, that medicine is not in your line.

In the Geometry Class.

John—"What shape is a kiss?"

Jack—"A lip tickle."

Haw! Haw! Haw!

We want everyone to pay up their subscriptions to the OUTLOOK as soon as possible, as only those who have "produced the needful" will receive copies in the future.

MEDICINE, 1905.

Probably the most deeply interesting ceremony ever held at McGill, was the election of officers by 4th Year Medicine. Hot air for the occasion was supplied by J. C. MacDonald, and fire-arms by "Gus." At the close of the fracas the following were found hands up:—

President—H. A. Leslie.

Vice-President—J. P. MacDonald.

Secretary—E. H. Henderson.

Treasurer—B. W. Robertson.

Reporter—J. J. Heagerty.

The gentle presence of Oleo lent zest to the occasion.

MEDICINE, '06.

Many thanks for your note and influence (?)

We are pleased to see several faces familiar in our First Year, beaming about the college once more.

Another complication of the class color-yell question: The Conservatorium of Music has adopted our yell—ow.

Prof. Mc—e, though unable to devote his energies to football, owing to a severe sprain of his left ankle, has found a outlet for his superfluous wind in politics.

"The witnesses are executed by the constable."

THE DANCING SCHOOL

KARN HALL - - 2362 ST. CATHERINE ST.

Everybody dances instinctively, just as everybody sings; but they need instruction in the dances used commonly, to develop the intuition. The best instruction is not too good for you. Should you make the mistake of entering a dancing hall school where the aim is gain, you are just as likely to be neglected. The little grace we have WE WANT TO KEEP and develop. A School of my standard appreciates this quality, and instructs so as to add to that we already have.

The METHOD is simplicity itself; the merest child can comprehend it, and is based on scientific principles; requires just half the time to become an adept.
